Unit B, D

Zusatzaufgabe

Read the following dialogue and find out three differences between a pub in Britain and a similar place in Germany.

At the pub

Anna: Shall we sit over there? It seems a nice cosy place.
Greg: Yes, that's fine. What would you like to drink? You know that here in Britain you have to order at the bar. There's no waiter service at the tables in a pub.
Anna: Oh, I didn't know that. I can't quite make up my mind. What are you having?
Greg: I think I'll have a pint of cider. That's quite refreshing.
Anna: Yes. That sounds good. I'll have the same, please.

Greg goes to the bar, orders, pays and brings back the menu.

Greg: There you are. What do you fancy eating for lunch? I think I'll have the roast chicken with mixed vegetables and roast potatoes.
Anna: The same for me, please.
Greg: OK. I'll place the order at the bar. Could you give me the money for yours as I don't think I've got enough with me. You know that you have to pay at the bar in a pub before you get your meal. They usually give you a ticket with a number on it. When the food's ready, they call out your number and then you can fetch your meal from the bar.
Anna: Of course. Here's 10 pounds. That should cover my meal and the cider. Here you are.
Greg: Thanks. Oh, look, there's our German friend. Hello, what would you like to have …?
