

Track 1Station 1, p. 3, ex. 3

I went to Australia with my family in the school holidays. We stayed in a hotel near a beach. It was very hot in Australia so I ate lots of ice cream. In the first week we went to a zoo. There were lots of great animals there. We also went shopping at a shopping centre and I bought some cool clothes. It was a great holiday!

Track 2Speaking corner, p. 5, ex. 7

1. Dave: Last weekend my parents and I visited my grandparents.
2. Olivia: In August I saw a great band with Holly.
3. Luke: Last year my football team won lots of games.
4. Holly: Yesterday I went shopping with my sister and mum.
5. Jay: In December I started a new band with two friends.
6. Gwen: Last Saturday I stayed at a big hotel with my favourite aunt.

Track 3Station 1, p. 19, ex. 2

- Dave: Hi Luke! Can you come to my house this afternoon? We can play my new computer game.
- Luke: Not 'An invitation from aliens'! We played that last week.
- Dave: No, this is a really new game. Luke, come to my house now. It's so exciting!
- Luke: OK, cool! Oh! – I forgot. I must do my homework. Can I come tonight?
- Dave: No, sorry. Mum has invited my aunt and my cousins for tea and I want to talk to them. What about tomorrow morning?
- Luke: No, I always sleep late on Saturdays. Is the afternoon OK – say four o'clock?
- Dave: Yes, it's a date! See you!

Track 4Station 2, p. 23, ex. 3

- 1. Woman: Can I help you?
- Girl: I need new trainers.
- Woman: Well, we have these trainers in white, in pink and in black. Lots of young people have bought them this month. You can wear them with jeans or with a skirt. Would you like to ...?
- 2. Man: I've just taken a lot of bikes to Margate. Now I must take things to a supermarket in Greenwich. I've never been there before, but I have my satnav.
- 3. Man: Hello! How are you today? It's time for some food now. Would you like some water? Your arm looks better. And the doctor says you can get up tomorrow.
- 4. Woman: Mmm, this food looks nice! Jimmy, I need some more cheese for this pizza! Sally, is the fish ready for table number eighteen?

Track 5Speaking skills, p. 33, ex. 3a)

- Doctor: Hello Sally. Hello Mrs Thompson.
- Sally: Hello Doctor Martin.
- Doctor: You don't look very happy today. What's wrong?
- Sally: My leg hurts.
- Doctor: Oh dear! Let's have a look. Does that hurt?
- Sally: Ouch! Yes, it does – a lot!
- Doctor: Tell me what happened.
- Sally: I was out on my bike and a man walked into me. I fell and hurt my leg. Have I broken it?
- Doctor: No, I don't think you've broken your leg. But you must be careful. Don't walk a lot.
- Sally's mum: Does Sally have to go to hospital?
- Doctor: No, not now. But come back and see me again next week, please.
- Sally: OK. Thank you, Doctor Martin. Goodbye.
- Doctor: Goodbye, Sally.

Track 6Way in, p. 34, ex. 2

That big white building on the right is the O2. It was built to celebrate the year 2000. Now there are lots of concerts at the O2 by famous bands (music and cheering) and it also has a big cinema and lots of restaurants.

- Boy: I really like this market! There are so many interesting people there.
- Girl: Yes, look at that girl with the green dress and the big hat!
- Boy: That is the biggest hat I've ever seen! Look, this man looks funny too with his orange trousers and colourful T-shirt.
- Girl: Oh, yes. But this woman is the funniest, just look at her shoes! And her dog wears shoes too!
- Boy: I think the dog's shoes are much nicer than the woman's shoes.
- Girl: And they must be warmer too.
- Boy: Look at this man with the blue T-shirt. That's the coolest T-shirt I've ever seen! I want one too!
- Girl: I think you can get one in the shop over there.
- Boy: Really? Great, let's go!

Track 9Listening skills, p. 48, ex. 1b)

- Woman: No – sorry, Nina – I really must go now – my flight is ready for boarding. I can call you again when I get to Frankfurt. Bye!
- Man: Can I see your boarding pass, please? Thank you. Right, I can push you to the gate now. There will be more people to help you there.
- Man: Mark, is your game in the green bag? OK, you take that one. And Jess, can you take the red bag? Great! Right, let's go!

Track 10Listening skills, p. 48, ex. 2b)

1. Your flight number LH 0914 to Frankfurt is now ready for boarding. People with small children please come first?
2. This is the very last call for Mr Robert Finch, passenger on flight BA 974 to Hamburg. Please come to gate number 27 now!
3. Can the driver of the BMW with the number RD62 JNL please come to the information desk?
4. M & H have just opened a new shop in Terminal 1. Come and see our great clothes and shoes!
5. This is a message for the owner of the black bag found in Terminal 2. Please come and get your bag?

Track 11Listening skills, p. 49, ex. 3

Tina: Excuse me, I've lost my boarding pass. Can you help me, please?

Airline official: Sure. I can look on the computer. Can I have your name, please?

Tina: Smith, Tina Smith.

Dennis: Hello? Is that you, Julie? It's me, Dennis. Yes, we're at the airport. Look, I've forgotten my sunglasses. Can you bring them ...? ... Oh, OK. I can buy some new sunglasses.

Simon: How much longer must we wait? It's so boring here!

Mother: I know, Simon, but our flight is delayed.

Simon: I could buy a comic in that shop over there. Can you give me some money?

Mother: Oh, OK Simon. Here you are.

Louisa: I'm so excited! I've never been to Jamaica!

Man: Oh really?

Louisa: My grandma lives there, you know, and she's invited me. My name's Louisa. I have a beautiful present for Grandma. – It's a scarf!

Man: That's great, Louisa, but I must go now.

Track 12Listening skills, p. 49, ex. 4

Woman: Excuse me.

Airline official: Yes, how can I help you?

Woman: I've come to the airport to meet my sister. She's on a flight from Stuttgart.

Airline official: Do you know the flight number?

Woman: Yes, it's LH 0919.

Airline official: I'm sorry, but that flight is late.

Woman: Yes, yes, I know that! But do you know when the plane arrives?

Airline official: The weather is bad in Stuttgart; that's a big problem.

Woman: Is the plane on the way now?

Airline official: Oh yes, but it's very windy in Stuttgart. You must check ...

Woman: Oh look! It says over there that flight LH 0919 arrives in ten minutes!
Thank you!

Airline official: You're welcome.

Track 13Station 1, p. 51, ex. 2

- Boy: What did you have for lunch today?
Girl: I had a pasty.
Boy: Was it good?
Girl: Yes, it was yummy! It had onions and carrots in it, but no meat. I'm a vegetarian, you know. What about you?
Boy: I'm not a vegetarian!
Girl: I know that! I mean – What did you have for lunch?
Boy: Sausages with chips – and a salad, too.
Girl: Did you like it?
Boy: It was OK, but there were only two sausages. I had a great meal last night!
Girl: Was that at home?
Boy: No, in a restaurant. I had chicken curry, rice and that nice bread. It was really great! But school lunches are OK too!

Track 14Station 2, p. 55, ex. 2a)

- Mum: The plates are on the table, Dave. Now we need knives, forks and spoons.
Dave: I've put knives and forks next to the plates.
Mum: Thanks.
Dave: Do we need spoons?
Mum: Yes, big spoons for the soup. They go on the right, next to the knife. I think that's everything.
Dave: I'd like some orange juice with my dinner, so I need a glass.
Mum: Oh yes, put some glasses on the table, please Dave, next to the plates on the right. And napkins too. Put a napkin on the left next to the plates. Now we're ready for our visitors.

Track 15Station 2, p. 55, ex. 2b)

- Dave: Jay is here, Mum. We want to play my new game. Can we take a snack to my room?
Mum: Yes, you can, but don't make a mess. Put the things on this tray.
Dave: I'll take this big bowl for our crisps. Oooh! These little chocolate puddings look nice! Can we ...
Mum: OK, but eat them with spoons! Look, here are two teaspoons. Put them on the tray. What about a drink?
Dave: Jay has two cans of coke. Do we have any straws?
Mum: Yes, here you are.
Dave: Thanks, Mum. OK Jay, let's go to my room.

Track 16Station 1, p. 67, ex. 3

I surf the internet every day. I read online magazines and find out things about my favourite stars. At the same time, I can chat online with my friends. We do that often. I never talk to my friends on the phone in the evening, we just chat online.

My mum doesn't understand chatting online, she likes to talk on the phone. She can't even write text messages! My dad texts me, but he doesn't surf the internet at home because he works on a computer all day. He watches TV in the evenings for hours. He watches the news, the sports news and then more news. I want a TV in my bedroom so I can watch what I want. I think all that news is boring!

Track 17Speaking corner, p. 70, ex. 1b)

A big black bird borrowed a big black dog and bought him a big black ball.

How many carrots can a good chef cook if a good chef can cook carrots?

Four football fans forgot to take their phones to the football game on Friday.

- Girl: What do you want to do in the summer holidays?
Boy: I want to go to football camp. Football practice every day. How about you?
Girl: I have to look after my little sister. She likes to make things like jewellery and pictures so I can help her. I want to go camping too!

Track 21Station 1, p. 83, ex. 2b)

- Boy: Wow – that sounds cool! Have you ever slept in a tent?
Girl: No, I haven't, but I want to. And I want to hike in the woods and surf on a big wave.
Boy: That sounds fun! I hope ...

Track 22Station 2, p. 87, ex. 2a)

- Dave's Mum: Hi Dave, how was your party?
Dave: It was great. My friends bought me lots of cool presents.
Dave's Mum: That's nice.
Dave: Yes, I'm really going to miss them.
Dave's Mum: Do you think they will visit you?
Dave: They said they will, but I'm worried they'll forget me.
Dave's Mum: They won't forget you, Dave! They are good friends.

Track 23Station 2, p. 87, ex. 2b)

- Dave: I just feel unhappy saying goodbye and changing schools.
Dave's Mum: I know it's scary to move house but I'm sure you will feel at home quickly. And think of all the new places you can explore.
Dave: Yes, I know - it'll be OK.
Dave's Mum: Well, we have lots to do before we move. You need to pack up your things!
Dave: OK Mum, I will!
