Ziel 1: Ich kann Informationen über Hong Kong verstehen.

Hong Kong - Where east meets west

- Hong Kong is in the south of China. Over 7.2 million people live there. It has a very multicultural society with many different religions, festivals and languages. Hong Kong used to be a British colony, but in 1997 it became a part of China again. Since then,
- it has kept a separate political and financial system.

Even though most people in the city use its excellent public transport system, Hong Kong still has a big problem with air pollution, much of which is caused by industries in China. It is one of the most crowded cities in the world, and there are great differences between the rich and the poor in the city.

People spend too much money on clothes. They want the latest fashions, but I think they should save their money for more important things.

I don't think people spend too much money on clothes. There are lots of department stores where you can get cool clothes at a low price. I agree that it's also important to save some money but going shopping with friends is fun. I think it's OK if you spend some money on clothes and then save some money for other things.

a) You are going to give a presentation at school about how your school could be more eco-friendly. Collect ideas in a mind map. (Lösungsvorschlag)

b) Write down your presentation. (Lösungsvorschlag)

The school would be more eco-friendly if we recycled all our waste. We could collect paper waste in the classrooms. Students could come to school by public transport or by bike. I think it's also important not to waste food. Students shouldn't bring lots of food to school and then throw it away. The school cafeteria should offer more food which is grown in the area and not in other countries because food transport causes pollution.

Students should try to save water; for example they shouldn't wash their hands for too long. The school would also save energy if there were solar panels on the roof.

Please share your experiences with cyberbullying in the comments below.

+LittleM Don't answer! I was being cyberbullied and I kept answering, but as soon as I stopped, the person got bored.

+D1Love Keep copies of all the awful things they say. I did this and then showed them to my aunty who went with me to speak to the person's parents.

+ Polly34 Block, block, block! A group of girls kept sending me horrible messages so I blocked them all so that they couldn't contact me anymore.

+KeitaKC Tell someone about it. I was so sad about being cyberbullied all the time that I couldn't take it anymore. I cried in front of my mum and as soon as I had someone to talk to about it, everything seemed better. We worked out how to deal with it together. Don't try to fight this alone. 🕾

Dein Freund: Ich habe dieses Onlineforum gefunden. Da geht es auch um Cyber-Mobbing, aber ich verstehe nicht alles. Warum schreiben die Leute da rein?

Sie teilen ihre Erfahrungen mit Cyber-Mobbing. Du:

Dein Freund: Da schreibt jemand, man soll nicht auf solche Nachrichten anworten. Warum?

Du: Als sie aufgehört hat zu antworten, wurde es der Person langweilig.

Dein Freund: Und wenn das nicht reicht? Man soll die Nachrichten kopieren und jemandem zeigen.

Und was hat D1Love dann gemacht?

Er oder sie hat mit der Tante gesprochen und die hat dann mit den Du:

Eltern der Person gesprochen, die gemobbt hat.

Dein Freund: Das ist gut. Und wie kann man dafür sorgen, dass man solche Nachrichten nicht mehr bekommt?

Man kann die Kontakte blockieren. Du:

Trotzdem fühlt man sich schlecht. Was haben die Opfer sonst noch gemacht? Dein Freund:

KeitaC hat mit ihrer Mutter gesprochen und sie hat sich besser gefühlt, Du:

als sie jemanden zum Reden hatte. Sie haben gemeinsam überlegt, was sie tun können.
