a) Match the article headlines below with the newspapers and magazines. Which headline could come from more than one of the publications? Explain why.

1. Five more species on the brink of extinction
2. Protesters march in Paris, Madrid and Rome
3. More bush fires expected
4. Baby koalas rescued from zoo flames
5. Film stars speak out against ivory poaching
6. Can those in power stop the illegal trade?
7. Recipes from the rich and famous
8. Warm winter weather causes hibernation problems

b) Write eight more headlines for the magazines and newspapers above. Do your headlines fit to one or more of the publications?

3 Protecting elephants?

Discuss this statement from an interview in the magazine "World of wildlife". To prepare for the discussion, write down arguments: Group A collects pros, Group B collects cons.

"Elephants and rhinos should be farmed, and then killed for their tusks and horns. This would stop poaching and the illegal trade in ivory and rhino horns."
