

Travelling around the British Isles

👤 If-clause game

1. Cut out the cards and put them on a pile face down.
2. Partner A: Take a card, show partner B the picture and the phrases, but cover up the solution with your hand.
3. Partner B: With if, say what you or other people will / won't / can / can't / should / shouldn't do.
4. Partner A: Check your partner's solution.
5. Partner B: If your solution is correct, you can keep the card.
6. Swap roles. The player with the most cards wins.

Example:
go to Wales | visit a national park

Possible solutions:
If I go to Wales, I will visit a national park.
If we go to Wales, we can visit a national park.
If your parents go to Wales, they should ...

to cover up [ˈkʌvɪr_ʌp] verdecken

There are several possible solutions. The ones on the cards are examples!

 go to London   see the River Thames	 not have a credit card   not book online	 travel from London to Cornwall   be cheaper to take the train
