

DIY – Do-it-yourself: Tabletop football

Make your own tabletop football game. It's so cool!

You need:

- 2 felt pens in two different colours
- 10 clothes pegs
- a ping-pong ball
- scissors
- a shoe box
- 4 round wooden sticks (They must be a little thicker than a pencil and longer than the width of your box. You can buy them from a craft shop.)
- Optional: 8 rubber bands

1. Put the sticks on top of the box like this. With one of your felt pens, mark the eight points where the sticks should go through the sides of the box.

2. Make eight holes into the box.

tabletop football [ˈteɪbltɒp ˈfʊtbɔːl] Tischfußball ○ wooden stick [ˌwʊdn ˈstɪk] Holzstab ○ thick [θɪk] dick ○ width [wɪθ] Breite ○ craft shop [ˈkrɑːft ʃɒp] Bastelladen ○ optional [ˈɒpʃnəl] zusätzlich; optional ○ rubber band [ˈrʌbə ˈbænd] Gummiband ○ mark [mɑːk] markieren; kennzeichnen

3.

Cut out a goal at each end of the box. The goals need to be a little bigger than a ping-pong ball.

4.

Push the four sticks through the holes in the box.

5.

With your felt pens, paint five of the clothes pegs in one colour and the other five in the other colour. These are your two teams.

6.

Attach two or three clothes pegs to each stick.

7.

If you like, you can attach rubber bands in your two colours to the ends of the sticks.

Use a bigger box for a bigger tabletop football game. You can also draw faces on your clothes pegs or decorate them with photos of your favourite football players. Be creative!

Now take a ping-pong ball and start playing. Have fun!
