Although Wales is officially part of the United Kingdom, it still has its own national flag. The Welsh flag is _____ and white (the white part is _____) and it shows a large, red dragon in _____. The red dragon is a symbol of Wales. The dragon symbol has been used in Wales since the Romans invaded<sup>1</sup> Wales in the first _____ (that's almost 2000 years ago!). The flag is called "Y _____ Goch" (The Red Dragon). Sometimes, you find the Welsh name for Wales on the flag, too: _____.

<sup>1</sup>to invade – einmarschieren, eindringen

Two dragons walk into school.
Says one dragon, "It's hot in here."
Says the other dragon, "Close your mouth."
